CHARLEROI WELL REPRESENTED

Many in Attendance at the High School Field Meet Today.

Charleroi is well represented at the Charleroi-Monessen High School field meet at Cook's track near Belle Vernon this afternoon. A large crowd left on the 1 o'clock and the 1:30 cars for the track, and are in attendance at the races.

As far as can be learned everything is passing off as previously arranged, and the meet promises to be even more successful than that of last year, despite the fact that only Charleroi and Monessen are interested. It is stated that Monongah·la will hold a field meet of her own on May 29.

BAPTISTS AT ELIZABETH

Interesting Session Held Yesterday by Group No. Six.

LOCAL PEOPLE PRESENT

The Baptists of Group 6, of the Pittsburg Baptist Association held their third rally at Elizabeth yesterday the delegates from each church being entertained by the members of the Elizabeth body. The group comprises the churches of Charleroi, Monessen, Monongahela, Riverview, Library and Elizabeth.

The afternoon session was convened at 2 o'clock when devotional services were conducted by Rev. J. W. Hays of Elizabeth. A general conference was conducted by Rev. J. H. Palmer of Charleroi, and Rev. J. W. Moody of Riverview spoke on "Methods of Soul Winning" and Rev. H. C. Gleiss of Pittsburg on "The Educative Element of Children's Day." At 5 o'clock a social session was held and the Elizabeth people served lunch.

The evening services were opened by Rev. Gleiss and Rev. Claude Kelly of Bellevue made an interesting address. Those present from the Charleroi church were Rev. J. H. Palmer, Mrs. J. L. Reeves, Mrs. C. C. Holyfield and Mrs. Mary Nickolson.

Charged With Assault.

Health Officer Darby has made information before Justice of the Peace Rice against William Potter on a charge of assault and battery. Mr. Potter has also been arrested on information by Mr. Darby and will have a hearing before Burgess Risbeck on Monday evening, being charged with interferring with an officer in the performance of his duties. The assault and action, it is stated, grew out of a controversy over the disposition or removal of some refuse Mr. Darby was looking after.

A strawberry and ice cream social will be held this evening, May 15, at the corner of Fourth street and McKean avenue for the benefit of the P. H. C. baseball team. Price 25 cents. Everybody welcome. 232t

J. W. Berryman and Son have an opening for a young man 17 to 20 years old to learn the business. Must be of good habits and live with his parents in Charleroi. 233t2

AUTO ACCIDENT OCCURS AT SIXTH STREET TODAY

Machine Hit By Street Car and Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Spencer Hurled to Pavement ---Man Has Ribs Broken.

A bad accident ocurred at the croner of Sixth street and Fallowfield avenue at about 1:15 this afternoon. An automobile driven by A. D. Spencer, who was accompanied by his wife, was struck by a Monessen and Belle Vernon street car, and both occupants hurled some distance on the pavement. Mr. Spencer sustained one or more broken ribs, while Mrs. Spencer at this writing was suffering somewhat from the shock, but so far as could be ascertained she was not seriously hurt.

Mr. Spencer was coming down Sixth street at a pretty good gait. The regular car for Belle Vernon had just passed, and a special conveying a party of excursionists to the high school meet at Belle Vernon was following. It is presumed that Mr. Spencer, seeing the first car go by, and not knowing of the other, thought he had a clear track and drove ahead, only to be hit by the second car.

The car hit the auto in the rear, wrecking it considerably. Both Mr. and Mrs. Spencer were thrown some distance on the pavement. No one on the car was hurt, which was stopped as quickly as possible. Mrs. Spencer was carried into Mrs. Dawson's millinery store, while Mr. Spencer was taken into the People's Real Estate Ageny office. Physicians were called, and a hasty examination showed that Mr. Spencer had one or more broken ribs, but the physicians could not find that Mrs. Spencer was hurt, aside from being stunned by the shock. The couple were later taken to their home.

GET ONE ON THE LEADERS

Charleroi and Willis Humphries Reverses General Order of Things.

NEW FACES IN LINEUP MAKE HITS THAT BRING IN THE WINNING SCORES IN FIRST AND THIRD.

After being flim-flammed twice in succession by the bottom team in the race, Charleroi yesterday reversed the general order of things and landed on the Fairmont bunch, the leaders for a victory. Part of the credit for this was due to the change in the lineup. Two new men occupied places, Smith of Slippery Rock being on the first bag, and Makepeace of Fayette City, a Valley Leaguer, being behind the bat. They made the hits which in reality won the game. Humphries twirled good ball.

Fairmont started off well. Keller, first up got a hit, went to second on a sacrifice and scored when Haught singled. Charleroi in their half of the first got a lead. Morgan was out and Harrell bingled one for one base, being advanced when Nally connected for a bag. Elliott spoke for base on balls and Nicely was safe on infielder's choice in which, however, Harrel was caught at home. Then that new first baseman, Smith came up and proceeded to puncture the atmosphere for three bases, scoring the entire outfit. After Makepeace batted and was hit by the pitcher, Strahl was yanked and Manager Hunt took the heaver's position. Charleroi got two more in the third. Nally, first up, was walked and got a base on Elliott's single. Nicely and Smith made outs, then that Makepeace fellow came up and slammed the horsehide nearly to the middle right fence. He chased in Nally and Elliott and circled the bases himself only to be called out for

Monte Carlo Girls Tonight.

Coming to the Coyle Theatre for a return engagement the Monte Carlo Girls will be a welcome change to the stereotyped style of shows that have been the general run of late and is welcome as the first breath of Sping. The boys have long been asking when the "Real Burlesque" would be back, so the management takes great pleasure in announcing the return of this popular attraction. Many new novelties have been added and the best of the old have been retained, along with our old friend, Lew Golden, the Funny Hebrew and "Mariutch."

DEDICATION ON MAY 30

TO HAVE PROMINENT MEN

Good Speakers Will Take Part In Program—Week Day Services.

Arrangements are being completed for the dedication of the Christ Lutheran church on Washington avenue and Sixth street. This service will be held on Sunday, May 30.

Rev. Dr. A. J. Turkle of North Side, Pittsburg and Rev. J. Elmer Bitte, missionary superintendent of the Pittsburg Synod will preach on this day. During the week following the dedication, services will be held each evening. Mr. Wm. C. Stoever, a very prominent attorney of Philadelphia, and also the president of the Luther League of America will address a meeting specially for men Tuesday evening, June 1.

Prof. Cornell of Califoria Normal is drilling the men's choir of this church in their dedication music.

The church, which has been in the course of erection for several months is just now being finished. It is a very handsome structure and will be the only stone church in the city. It was built at an approximate cost of $29,000. The Lutheran people are to be congratulated upon their handsome building, and the town should feel proud of its addition.

RALLY OF THE LARGEST CLASS

Charleroi Women's Organized Body the Largest in State.

The rally of the Anchor Class of the First Christian church tomorrow morning promises to be something out of the ordinary for Charleroi. The class is the one taught by Mrs. H. C. Boblitt, and has the reputation of being the largest adult women's Bible class in the state.

The meeting of the class will be held at the usual Sunday School hour in the morning at the store room in the M. Wilson building on Fallowefild avenue. It is planned to have 200 persons present. Souvenirs will be given and each member will wear a ribbon, with the words "Anchor Class" on it.

NEW STATION ACROSS RIVER

P. and L. E. Company To Erect New Structure at Belle Vernon.

PROBABLY COST $14,000

Belle Vernon is in line for a new passenger station, the P. and L. E. railroad people having signified their intention of erecting one in the near future as soon as plans are approved by the Belle Vrenon council. A report has been made to the Civic League of Belle Vernon by one of the head officials that the railroad company planned to erect the station at a probable cost of $14,000, which means that the town is to have a most up-to-date building.

A petition was presented to the company a few weeks ago for a structure to replace the present unsigntly depot, which is of brick, having been built in the early part of the last century, and for years used as a hotel.

It is located at First and Water streets. It is the plan to have the station built on First street between Water street and Long alley. This would mean that the town will have to vacate some of the lots to give room.

VALLEY LEAGUE OPENING TODAY

Automobile Parade Will be A Feature at Monessen.

The Monongahela Valley League will open today, all the teams to play. Monongahela will be at Monessen, Roscoe at Brownsville and Fayette City at Belle Vernon. At Monessen there will be a big parade, in which automobiles will convey the players and prominent citizens over the principal streets, while at the other towns there will be grand openings. L. M. Truxal of Belle Vernon is president of the league.

OPENING OF ELDORA PARK

Feature During Month Will be School Children's Picnic, May 26.

TO HOLD MARATHON THEN

Race Will be in General Charge of Local Shoe Merchant.

Thursday, May 20, marks the opening of Eldora Park for the season. An army of men has been at work at the park for some time overhauling, renovating and brightening up the premises, and everything will be spick and span for the opening of this popular resort. All the buildings have been repainted, the color scheme being changed. This season it is green with red trimmings, and the effect is most harmonizing.

The first picnic date of the season will be the annual outing for the pupils of the Charleroi schools. This is on Wednesday, May 26, and is under the direction of the board of education and the Merchants' Association and citizens generally. It has always been a most pleasurable event, but this year it is the intention to surpass all previous efforts. One of the features of entertainment at the picnic, will be Adolph's Marathon for boys under 15. Adolph has made arrangements with Manager Tom P. Sloan for this interesting event. A five mile track will be laid out, and Adolph will furnish all the prizes for the event.

Following the opening next Thursday will be the beginning of the Friday night dances, which were such a popular feature last season. The restaurant will be in charge of the park management and many other new features will be inaugurated from time to time.

HIGH OFFICIALS VISIT CHARLEROI

S. G. Long, General Superintendent of P. R. R. in Party.

High officials of the Pennsylvania Railroad, included General Superintendent S. G. Long passed through Charleroi yesterday afternoon about 1 o'clock, on a tour of the Western Pennsylvania division. The officials are out on this tour for the purpose of seeing the lines and to learn whether there are any extensive improvements to be made.

Wrong Name Sent in.

It was Am Fisher who was arrested at Fayette City this week on a charge of larceny, instead of Am Freedman, as stated in the Mail at the time. The latter name was sent in from what was considered reliable authority, but later development proved this to be a mistake.

Pure Wantoness.

One of the most flagrant instances of wantoness that has occurred in this community for some time was the defacing of a handsome new automobile, while the machine was standing on the streets or in some other public place. Presumably the mischief was perpetrated by boys, who sneaked up behind and disfigured the highly polished backboard. There was no motive for the act, other than "pure cussedness."

This deed is only in line with dozens of others which are perpetrated on citizens and property owners over town by the hordes of boys who swarm the streets and vacant lots after school. With no chores to do, no gardens to work—the 9 by 1. lots here preclude that -no duties to occpuy their attention, the boys run wild, terrorize the neighborhood, and commit all sorts of depredations. They take possesion of vacant lots, smash neighboring windows, yell like Comanches, cuss like dock wallopers, damage property, and vie with one another in being "tough" and generally bad. The language that some of them use would no doubt surprise their parents, should the latter come up on the juveniles unawares.

It is a mistake to permit boys to run wild on the streets with no work or duties to occupy their attention. The factory laws are not altogether right in their application. They should be amended to permit the employment of boys during vacations at some light work. This will do them infinitely more good, mentally, morally and physicially, than being a perennial nuisance and menace to the neighborhood.

Charity First.

In vetoing his pet measure, the bill for the proposed State road from Pittsburg to Philadelphia, Governor Stuart has exhibited a high sense of honor and public spirit. In spite of his warning the Legislature passed appropriation bills many millions in excess of the revenues, leaving to the Governor the unpleasant task of cutting down the appropriations to fit the State income. Although earnestly favoring the road, Governor Stuart had the alternative of cutting the appropriations for hospitals and charities, and he did not hesitate in his choice. He vetoed the road bill in favor of the charities.

Some day a Governor will be found who will teach the Legislature a lesson by vetoing every appropriation bill intact when they exceed the revenues. It is the practice of every member to rush all the bills through possible for appropriations affecting his district, whether the State can grant them or not, leaving the onus of cutting them down or vetoing them on the Governor. In paring the appropriations to fit the necessities of the treasury, the Governor is straining a point of the Constitution. Technically he would be warranted in vetoing every thing, thus putting the onus upon the members themselves. Such a lesson will be expensive to the taxpayers, but it will have to be taught some time.

New School Code.

Because the bill had been so unrecognizably mutilated by the Legislature in passage, as well as changed after its passage by that body, Governor Stuart has vetoed the new School Code, which was the subject of so much controversy during the session. The bill was tampered with and changed in its wording, after it left the Senate and House, and for this reason more, perhaps, than any other, the Governor has seen fit to veto it. For the next two years at least, the school laws will remain as they are.

While it was generally acknowledged that the new code had been badly mutilated and diverted from the intent of the commission of educators who framed, it the public was in hopes that it could finally become a law. Some of the provisions were most commendable, while others had been made objectionable by changes in passage. On the whole, it was thought that the good features overbalanced the bad ones. Obviously Governor Stuart thought otherwise, and as he has shown rare discrimination, discernment and conscientiousness in passing upon legislation, it will be well for the public to reserve its judgement until all of the features of the bill are known in detail.

YANKEE WIT.

Lincoln Said He Always Admired and Coveted It.

"Yankee wit was mentioned at one of the sittings, and Lincoln said, 'That is something I always admired and coveted.' Some one said, 'Why, you certainly have the credit of possessing it in large measure.' 'No,' said Lincoln, 'not the genuine. I don't remember that I ever got credit for it but once.' Then he told how, hurrying once through a courtroom, he was ordered by the judge to defend a prisoner accused of assault and battery. A witness was just testifying that the complainant had been fought all over a field. 'On cross examination,' said Lincoln, 'I asked him, "How large was that field—twenty acres?" "No," he replied. "Ten acres?" "No." "Were there two acres?" I persisted. "Yes, just about two," he agreed. "And you saw him fight this man all over the field?" pointing to the prisoner. "Yes, sir." "Well, sir," I said, "did you ever see a fight before that turned out so little to the acre?" The witness admitted, with a grin, that he had not, the judge smiled, and the jury snickered. So, saying that as this crop was so poor it did not seem worth further cultivation, I submitted the case. Some of my friends said it was Yankee wit, but that was the only time I ever got credit for it. I wish I had it.'"—McClure's Magazine.

HIS VOCABULARY.

It Was Real Literary, According to the Wily Stenographer.

The beautiful typewriter girl puffed out her golden pompadour nervously, says the Philadelphia Bulletin. "My speed 'll increase, Mr Meer—excuse me, Wellington—my speed 'll increase 30 to 40 per cent every day."

Broker Wellington frowned. The girl had taken his dictation slowly. And in a stern, skeptical voice he said, "How so?"

"It's your new vocabulary that puts me out," she explained. "I had Mr Meer's vocabulary very pat—'as per,' 'contents noted,' 'the same'—he only used about 300 words." Her flattering smile warmed the man like a sunbeam. "But you, sir, have a real literary style. 'Beg to submit,' 'our best attention,' 'slump,' 'bullish,' 'hypothecate'—they're all new words to me, and of course I can't rattle them off very fast at first. But just you wait, say, till day after tomorrow. Then you'll see."

"All business men have different vocabularies that their stenographers must get accustomed to, eh?" said the broker.

"Yes, sir; some large, some small." Again her smile flattered him. "Yours is larger than most. I should say it was thirty or forty words larger. Real literary, I call it."

"Miss Hoskins, if there's—er—any supplies you need all you've got to do is ask," said the literary broker fatuously.

The Similarity.

Blobbs—Why do you liken Hardupp to the busy bee? He isn't particularly industrious, is he? Slobbs—Oh, no; it isn't that, but nearly every one he touches gets stung.—Philadelphia Record.

Often the Case.

"My wife believes that what is to be will be."

"Well?"

LEFT ON HER DOORSTEP FOR THIS MOTHER

Mrs. A. G. Tuson, of Livermore, Cal., writes: "I picked up from my door step one day a little book in which I soon became very much interested. My little girl of five years of age had been troubled for a long time with loss of appetite, extreme nervousness and undue fatigue. She was all rundown and in a very delicate condition.

"This little book was very comprehensively written, and told of the new method of extracting the medicinal elements of the cod's liver from the oil, eliminating the obnoxious oil which is so hard for children to take.

"'Just the thing,' said I, 'for my little daughter,' and I immediately went for a bottle of Vinol. It helped her wonderfully. She has gained rapidly in flesh and strength, and she does not take cold half so easily.

"I am extremely grateful for the good it has done her, and I hope other mothers who have weak, delicate or ailing children will be benefited by my experience and just give Vinol a trial."

No Other Candidate for Recorder So Well Equipped as Alex. D. Young

ALEX. D. YOUNG

Alex. D. Young, candidate for the Republican nomination for Recorder of Washington county, is too well known to need formal introduction. His long service in the Recorder's office as deputy has brought him into close touch with the public and the uniformly courteous treatment accorded patrons of the office during his term of service has made him many substantial friends who are eager to rally to his support in the contest to be settled at the June primaries.

In point of qualifications no other candidate is so well equipped. Not another man in Washington county so well understands how to conduct the business of the office and there is no more deserving candidate. While at no time in his career has Mr. Young been identified with factional politics, he has at all times since attaining his majority been a strict adherent to the principles of the party of his choice.

On his record as deputy recorder, established by many years of faithful service and on his record for party regularity Mr. Young solicits the support of Washington county Republicans.

FOR RECORDER

JOHN H. MOFFITT

CHARLEROI, PA.

IN ANNOUNCING my candidacy for the nomination of County Recorder, I do so by stating that I have never been favored, either with an elective or an appointed position in this county, and I have never given support, nor encouragement in any campaign to any other than candidates of the Republican Party, from whose hosts I am now seeking the honorable position above named. I have long been a resident of the Monongahela Valley, and for more than one hundred and twenty years my ancestors have been taxpayers and residents of that section of the county.

While no new issues or questions are likely to be advanced in the coming campaign other than fitness and capability of the applicants, I wish to say that I stand as I have alway done, for the broad principles of Republicanism and will always be ready to champion every policy of reform involving a higher standard of politics.

On one or two occasions I have permitted my name to be withdrawn from political contests for the sake of the party harmony, but after being active in aiding others for almost a score of years in reaching the goal of their ambitions, I am now presenting myself for the first time as a candidate for the office of County Recorder, for which primaries will be held June 5th, 1909.

OXFORDS OF DISTINCTION

The Adolph line of popular priced oxfords differs from the ordinary stock in that it comprises styles and novelties that are usually to be found only in the higher priced grades. For instance we have smart pump effects with and without the ankle strap---two eyelet ties and broad ribbons---regular three and four eyelet oxfords---in all the popular materials---including the stylish suedes in black and colors and the fashionable bronze leathers at $3 45 the pair. You won't find such a glorious assortment of summer oxfords anywhere else in town and surely no such magnificent values as we are able to offer you. If you are not a regular patron of this store now is the time to get acquainted for the mammoth stock is replete with every size and width in all grades and you will be fitted perfectly and comfortably in the very pattern or design that is most pleasing to you. Come at once and let us demonstrate the Adolph value.

The beauty and daintiness of the designs and patterns and the cleverness shown in the modeling and shaping of our summer ties and oxfords will appeal to the woman who wants her footwear to be in keeping with the rest of her costume. Every care is taken in the making of Adolph's footwear to have it distinctive---to put in little details of finish that are different from anybody else's shoes, and while this costs us a few cents more a pair, yet we do not increase the price to you, for we consider it the very best kind of advertising.

Adolph's Beauties

The styles this summer are unusually smart and attractive. The diamond pointed tip with large or small perforations is particularly pleasing and will be worn extensively. The toe shapes are about the same as last season---although there is a tendency to go back to the more conservative round toe. The height of heel is just what you may desire and we have the high, medium and low patterns. Misses' and children's high and low cuts at prices ranging from 98c to $1.95 according to size. Men's Oxford's---Adolph's Special---all materials---$2.95 the pair.

THE KISS.

By LOUISE B. CUMMINGS.

(Copyright, 1909, by American Press Association.)

They met on the transcontinental train going west. He started from New York, and she got on at Omaha. She was a dashing girl. He was a bit of a swell in fancy waistcoat and light gaiters over his shoes. She sat near him in the parlor car, and when the conductor took her ticket and let it down like the steps of a coach of 1796 he saw that she was booked for San Francisco. He was going to San Francisco himself.

He wished he had some one to introduce him, but he hadn't. In a little while, though, something funny occurred, and she smiled, happening to catch his eye at the same time. He hadn't been used to having eastern ladies smile at him on a train. He couldn't make this one out.

They were crossing the alkali plains, and there was nothing attractive to look at. Even the river Platte, devoid of a fringe of bushes on its banks, was bereft of beauty. He couldn't stand it any longer. He took his newspaper and novels, dumped them on the seat beside her, lifted his hat, threw open his coat the better to show the pattern of his waistcoat and said:

"I shall be pleased if you can find anything among those to help you while away the time in this desolate region."

"Oh, I don't wish to read!" she said. "I've had enough of books lately. I'd much rather talk."

She took up the papers and put them on the opposite seat. He sat down beside her.

He was quite astonished at the ease with which the acquaintance had been made. Since he had never thus made a lady's acquaintance before it was natural that he should be a little surprised.

There was an added zest in finding her out—plenty of difficulty in it. And it was an adventure much to his liking, although he rather suspected that she might turn out to be an adventuress or a ladylike pickpocket. She was fairly well educated, made no slips in grammar, used no slang, but he had not been conversing with her an hour before she treated him as if they had been introduced, and at the end of twenty-four hours' acquaintance like an old friend.

And he was astonished at himself for the confidence he committed to her. He told her he had a chum living in San Francisco who was about to be married. He was going out there to be his friend's best man. She asked him a great many questions concerning the couple who were to participate as principals—whether there was a romance in it, how old the groom was, the bride. Was he handsome? Was she pretty? Were they rich or poor? She prattled and rattled on till she had exhausted all he knew about the groom and had made up all he didn't know about the bride, which was considerable. By this time she knew that his own name was Scarborough, his friend's name Wolford and the bride's Merriam. She was disappointed that he couldn't tell her the bride's first name, though she was sure it was Rosalie. When he asked why she said it was because that was the name she should have. He told her that Charlie Wolford—after this she always spoke of him as Charlie—was not a romantic chap, so he inferred that there wasn't much romance in the case. She said she didn't believe it—that she had never known a Charlie that wasn't a good fellow and just full of love and lovableness. What had Charlie told him about Rosalie's looks? He couldn't remember Charlie having written him about that, but he was sure Charlie thought her pretty.

When they reached the mountains and the scenery became grand the girl had become so interested in the man that she did nothing but prattle to him, leaving the canyons to waste their gorgeous beauty on some one else. She treated him with as much unreserve and unconventionality as if she had been brought up with him. He could only understand it on the assumption that there was something just a little bit queer about her. However, something, he knew not what, kept him from acting on the assumption till they were nearing San Francisco. Then when they were alone on the car platform she put her red lips so near to his that there was nothing left for him but to take a kiss. Instead of blushing or drawing back, she burst into a merry laugh. Then he was more mystified than ever.

He asked to see her to a cab when they should reach the station, but she told him that she expected friends to meet her—very straitlaced friends who would not like to see her in company with a man, so he must go away by himself. He asked if he might call on her, and she said he might. She would see that he got her address.

When he saw his friend Wolford he recounted his adventure. Wolford told him he could not tell anything about the western girls, they were so different from eastern girls—so unconventional. At that Scarborough stopped short of telling about the kiss.

When Wolford took his best man to meet his fiancee who should she be but the girl on the train!

"Charlie," she said, her eyes dancing with mischief, "how came you to have such a—friend? Do you know he scraped an acquaintance with me on the journey and—he actually kissed me!"

"Well, I'll be jinged!" said Charlie.

"And I'll never trust any girl again," said the best man.

LOCAL NOTES

Brief Mention of People and Events in this Community.

Mrs. F. Harris, wife of the McKean avenue barber, who has been visiting with her three children at Youngstown, Ohio, at which city her mother resides, has returned home.

Mrs. Jesse K. Johnston of Crest avenue has returned from a visit with relatives at Foxen, Conn.

Prof. Warren Douglas, head of the Douglas Business Colleges, was in town from McKeesport yesterday.

Miss Lulu Gayman has returned from Orlando, Florida, where she spent sometime.

Mrs. H. P. Jacobs is spending the day in Pittsburg and Wilkinsburg.

Early Psychotherapy.

In the Epistle of James we find the early Christian rule of psychotherapy. It was adopted by the early church and for many centuries was a rule of faith and practice in the Christian church in all its branches. It is still a rule of conduct in some of the older churches, and some leaders in churches where the rule has lapsed begin to plead for its revival and for the assumption by the church of what are called its legitimate powers. St. James said: "Is any sick among you, let him call for the elders of the church, and let them pray over him, anointing him with oil in the name of the Lord. And the prayer of faith shall save the sick, and the Lord shall raise him up, and if he have committed sins they shall be forgiven him."—Christian Register.

A Sad Case.

An Atchison man has lain in an unconscious state ever since 10 o'clock last night. Everything has been done to arouse him today, but all efforts are unavailing. His friends are greatly alarmed. They fear he may never regain consciousness. It seemed that yesterday evening right after dinner the man picked up his hat, put on his overcoat and, although his wife was sitting right in the room, she did not say, "Where are you going?" He walked out of the house. At 10 o'clock in the evening the man returned. He walked into the room where his wife sat and took off his hat and overcoat. She smiled at him pleasantly and did not say, "Where have you been?" The man fell unconscious to the floor.—Atchison Globe.

African Elephants.

In portions of Africa the natives believe when a herd of elephants is alarmed and runs away the bulls, if necessary, pick up and carry on their tusks the little ones which may not be able to keep up with the herd. These little ones when first born weigh not more than 200 pounds and of course might readily be carried, as stated. We do not know that any white man has ever seen this, but the natives insist that it is done.—Forest and Stream

Pool Opens May 15.

The swimming pool at Turner Hall will be open Saturday, May 15. The pool will be operated this year for members and their families only. In order to let the boys of the town have the benefit of the pool the management has set three afternoons, that is, Monday, Wednesday and Friday apart for them. The rates will be $1.00 per month or 50 cents between the 15th and the last of the month. The janitor, Mr. Andrew Hostnick, will have charge of the pool. Tuesday afternoon and Wednesday evening are set apart for ladies, and Mrs. Anrdew Hostnick will be in charge. Thursday evening is reserved for private parties. Boys must find their own trunks. The pool will also be available after 10 a. m. until noon to private parties.

The pool has been renovated, the walls are painted white clear to the bottom. The electric lights have been re-arranged. The pool is filled with water pumped from a well. The rules governing the pool will be strictly enforced. 232t4

...OMEN'S AID TO MEET TUESDAY

To Devise Plans For Working to Help Hospital Movement.

Arrangements are being made by the Charleroi Women's Auxiliary of the Monessen General Hospital for the meeting on Tuesday evening of next week at the Merchant's Association rooms, at which time the officials elected at a meeting on last Wednesday afternoon will formally take their offices and the organization perfected.

At this meeting it is desired to have a large number present. Methods of procedure in the aiding of the hospital work will be taken up and plans adopted. The meeting is Tuesday of next week instead of Thursday as erroneously reported a couple of days ago.

Reward.

I will pay a reward of $10 for information that will lead to the arrest and conviction of the party or parties who wrote on and disfigured the back of my automobile.

CHARLEROI WELL REPRESENTED

Charleroi is well represented at the Charleroi-Monessen High School field meet at Cook's track near Belle Vernon this afternoon. A large crowd left on the 1 o'clock and the 1:30 cars for the track, and are in attendance at the races.

As far as can be learned everything is passing off as previously arranged, and the meet promises to be even more successful than that of last year, despite the fact that only Charleroi and Monessen are interested. It is stated that Monongah-la will hold a field meet of her own on May 29.

BAPTISTS AT ELIZABETH

Interesting Session Held Yesterday by Group No. Six.

LOCAL PEOPLE PRESENT

The Baptists of Group 6, of the Pittsburg Baptist Association held their third rally at Elizabeth yesterday the delegates from each church being entertained by the members of the Elizabeth body. The group comprises the churches of Charleroi, Monessen, Monongahela, Riverview, Library and Elizabeth.

The afternoon session was convened at 2 o'clock when devotional services were conducted by Rev. J. W. Hays of Elizabeth. A general conference was conducted by Rev. J. H. Palmer of Charleroi, and Rev. J. W. Moody of Riverview spoke on "Methods of Soul Winning" and Rev. H. C. Gleiss of Pittsburg on "The Educative Element of Children's Day." At 5 o'clock a social session was held and the Elizabeth people served lunch.

The evening services were opened by Rev. Gleiss and Rev. Claude Kelly of Bellevue made an interesting address. Those present from the Charleroi church were Rev. J. H. Palmer, Mrs. J. L. Reeves, Mrs. C. C. Holyfield and Mrs. Mary Nickelson.

Charged With Assault.

Health Officer Darby has made information before Justice of the Peace Rice against William Potter on a charge of assault and battery. Mr. Potter has also been arrested on information by Mr. Darby and will have a hearing before Burgess Risbeck on Monday evening, being charged with interferring with an officer in the performance of his duties. The assault and action, it is stated, grew out of a controversy over the disposition or removal of some refuse Mr. Darby was looking after.

AUTO ACCIDENT OCCURS AT SIXTH STREET TODAY

Machine Hit By Street Car and Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Spencer Hurled to Pavement ---Man Has Ribs Broken.

A bad accident ocurred at the croner of Sixth street and Fallowfield avenue at about 1:15 this afternoon. An automobile driven by A. D. Spencer, who was accompanied by his wife, was struck by a Monessen and Belle Vernon street car, and both occupants hurled some distance on the pavement. Mr. Spencer sustained one or more broken ribs, while Mrs. Spencer at this writing was suffering somewhat from the shock, but so far as could be ascertained she was not seriously hurt.

Mr. Spencer was coming down Sixth street at a pretty good gait. The regular car for Belle Vernon had just passed, and a special conveying a party of excursionists to the high school meet at Belle Vernon was following. It is presumed that Mr. Spencer, seeing the first car go by, and not knowing of the other, thought he had a clear track and drove ahead, only to be hit by the second car.

The car hit the auto in the rear, wrecking it considerably. Both Mr. and Mrs. Spencer were thrown some distance on the pavement. No one on the car was hurt, which was stopped as quickly as possible. Mrs. Spencer was carried into Mrs. Dawson's millinery store, while Mr. Spencer was taken into the People's Real Estate Ageny office. Physicians were called, and a hasty examination showed that Mr. Spencer had one or more broken ribs, but the physicians could not find that Mrs. Spencer was hurt, aside from being stunned by the shock. The couple were later taken to their home.

NEW FACES IN LINEUP TO HAVE PROMINENT MEN

Make Hits That Bring in the Winning Scores in First and Third.

After being flim-flammed twice in succession by the bottom team in the race, Charleroi yesterday reversed the general order of things and landed on the Fairmont bunch, the leaders for a victory. Part of the credit for this was due to the change in the lineup. Two new men occupied places, Smith of Slippery Rock being on the first bag, and Makepeace of Fayette City, a Valley Leaguer, being behind the bat. They made the hits which in reality won the game. Humphries twirled good ball.

Fairmont started off well. Keller, first up got a hit, went to second on a sacrifice and scored when Haught singled. Charleroi in their half of the first got a lead. Morgan was out and Harrell bingled one for one base, being advanced when Nally connected for a bag. Elliott spoke for base on balls and Nicely was safe on infielder's choice in which, however, Harrel was caught at home. Then that new first baseman, Smith came up and proceeded to puncture the atmosphere for three bases, scoring the entire outfit. After Makepeace batted and was hit by the pitcher. Strahl was yanked and Manager Hunt took the heaver's position. Charleroi got two more in the third. Nally, first up, was walked and got a base on Elliott's single. Nicely and Smith made outs, then that Makepeace fellow came up and slammed the horsehide nearly to the middle right fence. He chased in Nally and Elliott and circled the bases himself only to be called out for

Monte Carlo Girls Tonight.

Coming to the Coyle Theatre for a return engagement the Monte Carlo Girls will be a welcome change to the stereotyped style of shows that have been the general run of late and is welcome as the first breath of Sping. The boys have long been asking when the Real Burlesque would be back, so the management takes great pleasure in announcing the return of this popular attraction. Many new novelties have been added and the best of the old have been retained, along with our old friend, Lew Golden, the Funny Hebrew and "Mariutch."

RALLY OF THE LARGEST CLASS

Charleroi Women's Organized Body the Largest in State.

The rally of the Anchor Class of the First Christian church tomorrow morning promises to be something out of the ordinanry for Charleroi. The class is the one taught by Mrs. H. C. Boblitt, and has the reputation of being the largest adult women's Bible class in the state.

The meeting of the ... held at the usual Sunday School hour in the morning at the store room in the M. Wilson building on Fallowefild avenue. It is planned to have 200 persons present. Souvenirs will be given and each member will wear a ribbon, with the words "Anchor Class" on it.

NEW STATION ACROSS RIVER

P. and L. E. Company To Erect New Structure at Belle Vernon.

PROBABLY COST $14,000

Belle Vernon is in line for a new passenger station, the P. and L. E. railroad people having signified their intention of erecting one in the near future as soon as plans are approved by the Belle Vrenon council. A report has been made to the Civic League of Belle Vernon by one of the head officials that the railroad company planned to erect the station at a probable cost of $14,000, which means that the town is to have a most up-to-date building.

A petition was presented to the company a few weeks ago for a structure to replace the present unsightly depot, which is of brick, having been built in the early part of the last century, and for years used as a hotel.

It is located at First and Water streets. It is the plan to have the station built on First street between Water street and Long alley. This would mean that the town will have to vacate some of the lots to give room.

VALLEY LEAGUE OPENING TODAY

Automobile Parade Will be A Feature at Monessen.

The Monongahela Valley League will open today, all the teams to play. Monongahela will be at Monessen, Roscoe at Brownsville and Fayette City at Belle Vernon. At Monessen there will be a big parade, in which automobiles will convey the players and prominent citizens over the principal streets, while at the other towns there will be grand openings. L. M. Truxal of Belle Vernon is president of the league.

OPENING OF ELDORA PARK

Feature During Month Will be School Children's Picnic, May 26.

TO HOLD MARATHON THEN

Race Will be in General Charge of Local Shoe Merchant.

Thursday, May 20, marks the opening of Eldora Park for the season. An army of men has been at work at the park for some time overhauling, renovating and brightening up the premises, and everything will be spick and span for the opening of this popular resort. All the buildings have been repainted, the color scheme being changed. This season it is green with red trimmings, and the effect is most harmonizing.

The first picnic date of the season will be the annual outing for the pupils of the Charleroi schools. This is on Wednesday, May 26, and is under the direction of the board of education and the Merchants' Association and citizens generally. It has always been a most pleasurable event, but this year it is the intention to surpass all previous efforts. One of the features of entertainment at the picnic, will be Adolph's Marathon for boys under 15. Adolph has made arrangements with Manager Tom P. Sloan for this interesting event. A five mile track will be laid out, and Adolph will furnish all the prizes for the event.

Following the opening next Thursday will be the beginning of the Friday night dances, which were such a popular feature last season. The restaurant will be in charge of the park management and many other new features will be inaugurated from time to time.

HIGH OFFICIALS VISIT CHARLEROI

S. G. Long, General Superintendent of P. R. R. in Party.

High officials of the Pennsylvania Railroad, included General Superintendent S. G. Long passed through Charleroi yesterday afternoon about 1 o'clock, on a tour of the Western Pennsylvania division. The officials are out on this tour for the purpose of seeing the lines and to learn whether there are any extensive improvements to be made.

Wrong Name Sent in.

It was Am Fisher who was arrested at Fayette City this week on a charge of larceny, instead of Am Freedman, as stated in the Mail at the time. The latter name was sent in from what was considered reliable authority, but later development proved this to be a mistake.

Pure Wantoness.

One of the most flagrant instances of wantoness that has occurred in this community for some time was the defacing of a handsome new automobile, while the machine was standing on the streets or in some other public place. Presumably the mischief was perpetrated by boys, who sneaked up behind and disfigured the highly polished backboard. There was no motive for the act, other than "pure cussedness."

This deed is only in line with dozens of others which are perpetrated on citizens and property owners over town by the hordes of boys who swarm the streets and vacant lots after school. With no chores to do, no gardens to work—the 9 by 1 lots here preclude that—no duties to occupy their attention, the boys run wild, terrorize the neighborhood, and commit all sorts of depredations. They take possesion of vacant lots, smash neighboring windows, yell like Comanches, cuss like dock wallopers, damage property, and vie with one another in being "tough" and generally bad. The language that some of them use would no doubt surprise their parents, should the latter come up on the juveniles unawares.

It is a mistake to permit boys to run wild on the streets with no work or duties to occupy their attention. The factory laws are not altogether right in their application. They should be amended to permit the employment of boys during vacations at some light work. This will do them infinitely more good, mentally, morally and physicially, than being a perennial nuisance and menace to the neighborhood.

Charity First.

In vetoing his pet measure, the bill for the proposed State road from Pittsburg to Philadelphia, Governor Stuart has exhibited a high sense of honor and public spirit. In spite of his warning the Legislature passed appropriation bills many millions in excess of the revenues, leaving to the Governor the unpleasant task of cutting down the appropriations to fit the State income. Although earnestly favoring the road, Governor Stuart had the alternative of cutting the appropriations for hospitals and charities, and he did not hesitate in his choice. He vetoed the road bill in favor of the charities.

Some day a Governor will be found who will teach the Legislature a lesson by vetoing every appropriation bill intact when they exceed the revenues. It is the practice of every member to rush all the bills through [illegible] for appropriations affecting his district, whether the State can grant them or not, leaving the onus of cutting them down or vetoing them on the Governor. In paring the appropriations to fit the necessities of the treasury, the Governor is straining a point of the Constitution. Technically he would be warranted in vetoing every thing, thus putting the onus upon the members themselves. Such a lesson will be expensive to the taxpayers, but it will have to be taught some time.

New School Code.

Because the bill had been so unrecognizably mutilated by the Legislature in passage, as well as changed after its passage by that body, Governor Stuart has vetoed the new School Code, which was the subject of so much controversy during the session. The bill was tampered with and changed in its wording, after it left the Senate and House, and for this reason more, perhaps, than any other, the Governor has seen fit to veto it. For the next two years at least, the school laws will remain as they are.

While it was generally acknowledged that the new code had been badly mutilated and diverted from the [illegible] who framed, it the public was in hopes that it could finally become a law. Some of the provisions were most commendable, while others had been made objectionable by changes in passage. On the whole, it was thought that the good features overbalanced the bad ones. Obviously Governor Stuart thought otherwise, and as he has shown rare discrimination, discernment and conscientiousness in passing upon legislation, it will be well for the public to reserve its judgement until all of the features of the bill are known in detail.

YANKEE WIT.

Lincoln Said He Always Admired and Coveted It.

"Yankee wit was mentioned at one of the sittings, and Lincoln said, 'That is something I always admired and coveted.' Some one said, 'Why, you certainly have the credit of possessing it in large measure.' 'No,' said Lincoln, 'not the genuine. I don't remember that I ever got credit for it but once.' Then he told how, hurrying once through a courtroom, he was ordered by the judge to defend a prisoner accused of assault and battery. A witness was just testifying that the complainant had been fought all over a field. 'On cross examination,' said Lincoln, 'I asked him, "How large was that field—twenty acres?" "No," he replied. "Ten acres?" "No." "Were there two acres?" I persisted. "Yes, just about two," he agreed. "And you saw him fight this man all over the field?" pointing to the prisoner. "Yes, sir." "Well, sir," I said, "did you ever see a fight before that turned out so little to the acre?" The witness admitted, with a grin, that he had not. The judge smiled, and the jury snickered. So, saying that as this crop was so poor I did not see much further cultivation, I submitted the case. [illegible] it was Yankee wit, but that was the only time I ever got credit for it. I wish I had it."—McClure's Magazine.

HIS VOCABULARY.

It Was Real Literary, According to the Wily Stenographer.

The beautiful typewriter girl puffed out her golden pompadour nervously, says the Philadelphia Bulletin. "My speed 'll increase, Mr Meer—excuse me, Wellington—my speed 'll increase 30 to 40 per cent every day."

Broker Wellington frowned. The girl had taken his dictation slowly. And in a stern, skeptical voice he said, "How so?"

"It's your new vocabulary that puts me out," she explained. "I had Mr. Meer's vocabulary very pat—'as per,' 'contents noted,' 'the same'—he only used about 300 words." Her flattering smile warmed the man like a sunbeam. "But you, sir, have a real literary style. 'Beg to submit,' 'our best attention,' 'slump,' 'bullish,' 'hypothecate'—they're all new words to me, and of course I can't rattle them off very fast at first. But just you wait, say, till day after tomorrow. Then you'll see."

"All business men have different vocabularies that their stenographers must get accustomed to, eh?" said the broker.

"Yes, sir; some large, some small." Again her smile flattered him. "Yours is larger than most. I should say it was thirty or forty words larger. Real literary, I call it."

"Miss Hoskins, if there's—er—any supplies you need all you're got to do is ask," said the literary broker fatuously.

The Similarity.

Blobbs—Why do you liken Hardduppe to the busy bee? He isn't particularly industrious, is he? Slobbs—Oh, no; it isn't that, but nearly every one he touches gets stung.—Philadelphia Record.

Often the Case.

"My wife believes that what is to be will be."

"Well?"

LEFT ON HER DOORSTEP FOR THIS MOTHER

Mrs. A. G. Tyson, of Livermore, Cal., writes: "I picked up from my door step one day a little book in which I soon became very much interested. My little girl of five years of age had been troubled for a long time with loss of appetite, extreme nervousness and undue fatigue. She was all run-down and in a very delicate condition.

"This little book was very comprehensively written, and told of the new method of extracting the medicinal elements of the cod's liver from the oil, eliminating the obnoxious oil which is so hard for children to take.

"'Just the thing,' said I, 'for my little daughter,' and I immediately went for a bottle of Vinol. It helped her wonderfully. She has gained rapidly in flesh and strength, and she does not take cold half so easily.

"I am extremely grateful for the good it has done her, and I hope other mothers who have weak, delicate or ailing children will be benefited by my experience and just give Vinol a trial."

No Other Candidate for Recorder So Well Equipped as Alex. D. Young

ALEX. D. YOUNG

Alex. D. Young, candidate for the Republican nomination for Recorder of Washington county, is too well known to need [illegible] His long service in the Recorder's office as deputy has brought him into close touch with the public and the uniformly courteous treatment accorded patrons of the office during his term of service has made him many substantial friends who are eager to rally to his support in the contest to be settled at the June primaries.

In point of qualifications no other candidate is so well equipped. Not another man in Washington county so well understands how to conduct the business of the office and there is no more deserving candidate. While at no time in his career has Mr. Young been identified with factional politics, he has at all times since attaining his majority been a strict adherent to the principles of the party of his choice.

On his record as deputy recorder, established for many years of faithful service and on his record for party regularity Mr. Young solicits the support of Washington county Republicans.

JOHN H. MOFFITT

CHARLEROI, PA.

IN announcing my candidacy for the nomination of County Recorder, I do so by stating that I have never been interested, either with an office or an appointed position in this county, and I have never given support, nor encouragement in any campaign to any other than candidates of the Republican Party, from whose hosts I am now seeking the honorable position above named. I have long been a resident of the Monongahela Valley, and for more than one hundred and twenty years my ancestors have been taxpayers and residents of that section of the county.

While no new issues or questions are likely to be advanced in the coming campaign other than fitness and capability of the candidates I wish to say that I stand as I have alway done, for the broad principles of Republicanism and will always be ready to champion every policy of reform involving a higher standard of politics.

On one or two occasions I have permitted my name to be withdrawn from political contests for the sake of the party harmony, but after being active in aiding others for almost a score of years in reaching the goal of their ambitions, I am now presenting myself for the first time as a candidate for the office of County Recorder, for which primaries will be held June 5th, 1909.

OXFORDS OF DISTINCTION

The Adolph line of popular priced oxfords differs from the ordinary stock in that it comprises styles and novelties that are usually to be found only in the higher priced grades. For instance we have smart pump effects with and without the ankle strap---two eyelet ties and broad ribbons---regular three and four eyelet oxfords---in all the popular materials---including the stylish suedes in black and colors and the fashionable bronze leathers at $3.45 the pair. You won't find such a glorious assortment of summer oxfords anywhere else in town and surely no such magnificent values as we are able to offer you. If you are not a regular patron of this store now is the time to get acquainted for the mammoth stock is replete with every size and width in all grades and you will be fitted perfectly and comfortably in the very pattern or design that is most pleasing to you. Come at once and let us demonstrate the Adolph value.

The beauty and daintiness of the designs and patterns and the cleverness shown in the modeling and shaping of our summer ties and oxfords will appeal to the woman who wants her footwear to be in keeping with the rest of her costume. Every care is taken in the making of Adolph's footwear to have it distinctive---to put in little details of finish that are different from anybody else's shoes, and while this costs us a few cents more a pair, yet we do not increase the price to you, for we consider it the very best kind of advertising.

Adolph's Beauties

The styles this summer are unusually smart and attractive. The diamond pointed tip with large or small perforations is particularly pleasing and will be worn extensively. The toe shapes are about the same as last season---although there is a tendency to go back to the more conservative round toe. The height of heel is just what you may desire and we have the high, medium and low patterns. Misses' and children's high and low cuts at prices ranging from 98c to $1.65 according to size. Men's Oxfords---Adolph's Specials---all materials---$3.45 the pair.

THE KISS.

By LOUISE B. CUMMINGS.

[Copyright, 1909, by American Press Association.]

They met on the transcontinental train going west. He started from New York, and she got on at Omaha. She was a dashing girl. He was a bit of a swell in fancy waistcoat and light gaiters over his shoes. She sat near him in the parlor car, and when the conductor took her ticket and let it down like the steps of a coach of 1796 he saw that she was booked for San Francisco. He was going to San Francisco himself.

He wished he had some one to introduce him, but he hadn't. In a little while, though, something funny occurred, and she smiled, happening to catch his eye at the same time. He hadn't been used to having eastern ladies smile at him on a train. He couldn't make this one out.

They were crossing the alkali plains, and there was nothing attractive to look at. Even the river Platte, devoid of a fringe of bushes on its banks, was bereft of beauty. He couldn't paper and novels, dumped them on the seat beside her, lifted his hat, threw open his coat the better to show the pattern of his waistcoat and said:

"I shall be pleased if you can find anything among those to help you while away the time in this desolate region."

"Oh, I don't wish to read," she said. "I've had enough of books lately. I'd much rather talk."

She took up the papers and put them on the opposite seat. He sat down beside her.

He was quite astonished at the ease with which the acquaintance had been made. Since he had never thus made a lady's acquaintance before it was natural that he should be a little surprised.

There was an added zest in finding her out—plenty of difficulty in it. And it was an adventure much to his liking, although he rather suspected that she might turn out to be an adventuress or a Judyike pickpocket. She was fairly well educated, made no slips in grammar, used no slang, but he had not been conversing with her an hour before she treated him as if they had been introduced, and at the end of twenty-four hours' acquaintance like an old friend.

And he was astonished at himself for the confidence he committed to her. He told her he had a chum living in San Francisco who was about to be married. He was going out there to be his friend's best man. She asked him a great many questions concerning the couple who were to participate as principals—whether there was a romance in it, how old the groom was, the bride. Was he handsome? Was she pretty? Were they rich or poor? She prattled and rattled on till she had exhausted all he knew about the groom and had made up all he didn't know about the bride, which was considerable. By this time she knew that his own name was Scarborough, his friend's name Wolford and the bride's Merriam. She was disappointed that he couldn't tell her the bride's first name, though she was sure it was Rosalie. When he asked why she said it was because that was the name she should have. He told her that Charlie Wolford—after this she always spoke of him as Charlie—was not a romantic chap, so he inferred that there wasn't much romance in the case. She said she didn't believe it—that she had never known a Charlie that wasn't a good fellow and just full of love and lovableness. What had Charlie told him about Rosalie's looks? He couldn't remember Charlie having written him about that, but he was sure Charlie thought her pretty.

When they reached the mountains and the scenery became grand the girl had become so interested in the man that she did nothing but prattle to him, leaving the canyons to waste their gorgeous beauty on some one else. She treated him with as much unreserve and unconventionality as if she had been brought up with him. He could only understand it on the assumption that there was something just a little bit queer about her. However, something, he knew not what, kept him from acting on the assumption till they were nearing San Francisco. Then when they were alone on the car platform she put her red lips so near to his that there was nothing left for him but to take a kiss. Instead of blushing or drawing back, she burst into a merry laugh. Then he was more mystified than ever.

He asked to see her to a cab when they should reach the station, but she told him that she expected friends to meet her—very straitlaced friends who would not like to see her in company with a man, so he must go away by himself. He asked if he might call on her, and she said he might. She would see that he got her address.

When he saw his friend Wolford he recounted his adventure. Wolford told him he could not tell anything about the western girls, they were so different from eastern girls—so unconventional. At that Scarborough stopped short of telling about the kiss.

When Wolford took his best man to meet his fiancee who should she be but the girl on the train!

"Charlie," she said, her eyes dancing with mischief, "how came you to have such a friend? Do you know he scraped an acquaintance with me on the journey and—he actually kissed me!"

"Well, I'll be jinged!" said Charlie.

"And I'll never trust any girl again," said the best man.

Early Psychotherapy.

In the Epistle of James we find the early Christian rule of psychotherapy. It was adopted by the early church and for many centuries was a rule of faith and practice in the Christian church in all its branches. It is still a rule of conduct in some of the older churches, and some leaders in churches where the rule has lapsed begin to plead for its revival and for the assumption by the church of what are called its legitimate powers. St. James said: "Is any sick among you, let him call for the elders of the church, and let them pray over him, anointing him with oil in the name of the Lord. And the prayer of faith shall save the sick, and the Lord shall raise him up, and if he have committed sins they shall be forgiven him."—Christian Register.

A Sad Case.

An Atchison man has lain in an unconscious state ever since 10 o'clock last night. Everything has been done to arouse him today, but all efforts are unavailing. His friends are greatly alarmed. They fear he may never regain consciousness. It seemed that yesterday evening right after dinner the man picked up his hat, put on his overcoat and, although his wife was sitting right in the room, she did not say, "Where are you going?" He walked out of the house. At 10 o'clock in the evening the man returned. He walked into the room where his wife sat and took off his hat and overcoat. She smiled at him pleasantly and did not say, "Where have you been?" The man fell unconscious to the floor.—Atchison Globe.

African Elephants.

In portions of Africa the natives believe when a herd of elephants is alarmed and runs away the bulls—if necessary, pick up and carry on their tusks the little ones which may not be able to keep up with the herd. These little ones when first born weigh not more than 200 pounds and of course might readily be carried, as stated. We do not know that any white man has ever seen this, but the natives insist that it is done.—Forest and Stream

Pool Opens May 15.

The swimming pool at Turner Hall will be open Saturday, May 15. The pool will be operated this year for members and their families only. In order to let the boys of the town have the benefit of the pool the management has set three afternoons, that is, Monday, Wednesday and Friday apart for them. The rates will be $1.00 per month or 50 cents between the 15th and the last of the month. The janitor, Mr. Andrew Hostnick, will have charge of the pool. Tuesday afternoon and Wednesday evening are set apart for ladies, and Mrs. Anrdew Hostnick will be in charge. Thursday evening is reserved for private parties. Boys must find their own trunks. The pool will also be available after 10 a. m. until noon to private parties.

The pool has been renovated, the walls are painted white clear to the bottom. The electric lights have been re-arranged. The pool is filled with water pumped from a well. The rules governing the pool will be strictly enforced. 232t4
